The long-term value of a degree from a reputable institution is a key consideration along with cost.

Transferring to U-M can be a big decision and there are many factors to consider, including cost and the financial assistance you receive. Resources such as private scholarships or loans may be necessary to supplement aid from U-M. Our office can help you find these resources, understand financial aid programs and assist with budgeting.

- Apply for financial aid as soon as possible. You don’t have to be accepted to U-M before applying.
- You can receive aid each year, but must reapply annually.
- Your financial aid is likely to be similar each year if your family circumstances and available U-M funds do not change.
- Aid is awarded on a rolling, first come, first-served basis, so be sure to apply by deadline, especially to be considered for grants!

What does it cost to attend U-M?

Use the U-M NET PRICE CALCULATOR to find your own bottom line:

PRIVATE SCHOLARSHIPS

We encourage you to search for private scholarships (not awarded through the university) as early as possible. Free online scholarship search services are listed on our website. Continue your scholarship search throughout your university education.
